Extra Credit Problem 3.

7 people are seated in a circle at a small table at a banquet. After eating the main course, everyone gets up, gets desert and then sits down at random at their table. What is the probability that no one is sitting next to the same people they were sitting next to at the beginning? For super-extra credit, what is the answer if we start with \( n \) people?