• The discussion section will cover a) solutions to homework problems, b) solutions to the test problems, c) additional course material, or d) a brief review of the material covered during the week. Homework problems will be assigned for practice but they will not be graded.

• Homeworks will be assigned in class every one/two weeks, but will not be collected. Homeworks are intended to provide you with additional preparation for tests. Homework solutions will be subsequently made available through Student Reserves and can be discussed in office hours, so that students can check their solutions.

• There will be four (4) tests given in this course. The first three (3) tests will be given in class, and will occur approximately every 3 weeks. The final will take place during the schedule of the final of this course. Each of the midterms will contribute 25% to the final grade. The final will contribute 35% to your final grade. Additionally, a number of unannounced quizzes will take place during lectures and discussion sections; each of them will contribute an additional 2% to your grade. There will be no make-up tests given for any reason. To get credit for an exam or quiz, attendance during the time period that it is given in is required.

• Sometimes you get a grade that you don’t like, either because I added up the points wrong or because you think I evaluated you wrongly. If you believe that a regrade is needed, tell me immediately. In case of a regrade, your whole test will be regraded, possibly resulting in a lower score. If no regrade is requested within one week, the following Statute of Limitations will apply:

  You have one (1) week from the day any particular graded exam is made available to you to appeal the grade you received. After one week, I will assume that you believe the grade that you got is the correct one. After one week, grades are unchangeable, fixed and permanent.
