

PRADEEP K. KHOSLA

November 14, 2016

Dr. Ravi Ramamoorthi
Professor
Jacobs School of Engineering
University of California San Diego
9500 Gilman Drive, #0404
La Jolla, CA 92093-0404

Dear Ravi,

Congratulations for being named holder of the Jacobs School of Engineering's newest endowed chair. I am so pleased the chair will support your world-renowned work and UC San Diego's continued recruitment of academia's most outstanding scholars.

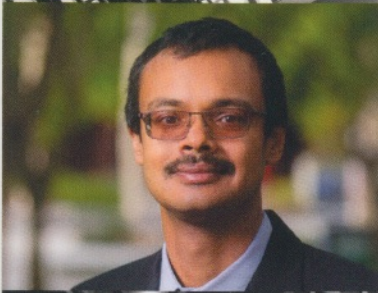

I am delighted to share with you the enclosed announcement of the establishment of the Ronald L. Graham Endowed Chair of Computer Science and your appointment as inaugural chair holder. This striking card will be distributed to UC San Diego's highest-level friends and supporters.

We are most honored to count you among our distinguished faculty.

With kind regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Pradeep".

Pradeep K. Khosla
Chancellor

RAVI RAMAMOORTHI

Ronald L. Graham Chair of Computer Science

Established to honor Ronald L. Graham for his distinction as a scholar and teacher in the Department of Computer Science and Engineering

Established by an anonymous UC San Diego alumnus, this chair supports a Jacobs School of Engineering faculty member with a research and teaching focus in growth areas such as big data, computer systems, and cyber-physical systems. For more than 500 years, the world's great universities have honored and supported faculty for their exceptional work through endowed chairs.

The inaugural chair holder, Professor Ravi Ramamoorthi, is director of the new UC San Diego Center for Visual Computing. He plays an important role in bringing together the fields of computer graphics and computer vision, as well as the pioneering work in visualization and virtual reality by organizations such as the Qualcomm Institute at UC San Diego.

For more information on endowed chairs at UC San Diego, please visit www.endowedchairs.ucsd.edu.