Have a great idea? ViaSat wants to hire you!

Launch is a competition to design your own internship, based on your ideas. Grab some friends, create a cool internship proposal, refine it with help from our expert engineers, and pitch it to top minds at ViaSat.

Win a summer job in San Diego and make your idea a reality! The contest starts October 13th, and runs through November 7th. Finalists will present to ViaSat judges soon after, and the winning team (or teams!) will be announced in time to tell your family at Thanksgiving Dinner.

ViaSat builds the world’s best satellite broadband systems. We have engineers working every day on:

- Big data technologies and cloud computing
- Military-grade cryptography
- Redefining satellite design and capacity
- Making in-flight Wi-Fi not suck
- Securing the Internet of Things
- Lots of other awesome tech!

Attend our Kickoff Event on Fri, Oct 10, 6pm - 8pm @ Fung Auditorium, Powell-Focht Bioengineering Hall. Food will be provided.
